To whom it may concern:

The IMF Regional Office for Asia and the Pacific (OAP) is pleased to inform you that the application for the above-mentioned programs is now open. We would be grateful if your institution could identify interested officials and nominate them for application. A detailed description of the programs is available on OAP's website at https://www.imf.org/en/Countries/ResRep/OAP-Home.

I. Japan-IMF Scholarship Program for Asia (JISPA) for Junior Officials

Partnership-track (for master's studies): The JISPA is designed for junior government officials from economic policy-making agencies in emerging and developing economies in the Asia-Pacific region. We plan to award 34 scholarships under the partnership track where the scholars study in specially designed master's programs at one of the four partner universities. The curriculum of each partnership program has been developed to strike the best balance between theory and practice. Skills to be attained by scholars are proposed by each master's program to help target officials and their agencies identify the program most suitable for their career. The application deadline for AY2021-22 is December 1, 2020. Accepted scholars are expected to put their knowledge into practice upon returning home as part of the Fund's capacity building efforts.

Open-track (mainly for Ph.D. studies): In addition to the partnership track scholarships, the JISPA also provides a small number of scholarships under an open-track program. Applicants should be government officials who would like to pursue graduate studies (preferably at Ph.D. level) in macroeconomics at any reputable institution in Japan. The application deadline for AY2021-22 is June 1, 2021.

INTERNATIONAL MONETARY FUND

Continuing-Education Program for JISPA Alumni (JISPA-CE): In collaboration with ICD and regional training centers, OAP will continue to offer the JISPA-CE to support the alumni's career-long education and training. The JISPA alumni who have worked seven or more years in the public sector after the completion of their JISPA education, and who remain in the public sector, will be targeted. The third JISPA-CE was delayed due to the COVID-19 pandemic and will now be held in a virtual format in January/February 2021. This offering will also be re-opened to applications from additional alumni due to the delay in the course. OAP will announce the re-opened application for this training program through our website and the JISPA alumni networking site once detailed descriptions have been confirmed.

II. Japan-IMF Macroeconomic Seminar for Asia (JIMS) for Senior Officials

The JIMS is a one-week seminar targeting senior officials from the Asia-Pacific Region, and serves as a forum for policy discussions. It provides opportunities to deepen discussions by facilitating interaction between officials from Japan and other countries, usually including a half-day field trip. The JIMS will be held March 1-5, 2021, with the application deadline on November 6, 2020. The JIMS might be conducted online depending on the COVID-19 situation.

JAPAN-IMF SCHOLARSHIP PROGRAM FOR ASIA 2021-22

A scholarship for junior government officials in Asia who wish to pursue graduate-level economics at Japanese universities. Funded by the Government of Japan Administered by the IMF Regional Office for Asia and the Pacific (OAP)

IMF-JAPAN
PARTNERSHIP

Japan-IMF Scholarship Program for Asia1

The Japan-IMF Scholarship Program for Asia (JISPA) aims to contribute to institutional capacity building of key macroeconomic management agencies in emerging and developing countries in Asia by providing training opportunities for junior government officials.

The JISPA targets highly motivated government officials who may serve as future macroeconomic policy makers with the capacity and vision to contribute effectively to the economic development of their countries.

FOR ASIA"S FUTURE

The JISPA comprises of two tracks: (1) partnership-track; and (2) open-track.

Partnership Track

The JISPA partnership track allows scholars to study specially designed graduate level courses concentrating on macroeconomics at an IMF partnership university. The partnership universities are:

- National Graduate Institute for Policy Studies (GRIPS)
 - Macroeconomic Policy Program (Master of Public Policy or Master of Public Economics-one-year program)

 Macroeconomic Policy Program (Master of Arts in Public Economics-two-year program)
- Hitotsubashi University (HIT)
 - Asian Public Policy Program (Master of Public Policy (Public Economics)-two-year program)
- International University of Japan (IUJ)
 - Macroeconomic Policy Program (Master of Arts in Economicstwo-year program)
- The University of Tokyo (Ulokyo)
 - International Program/Master of Public Policy (Master of Public Policy-two-year program)

Orientation Program: To ensure that new entrants are well prepared to commence their master's programs and to adjust to life in Japan, the JISPA offers the Orientation Program (OP) to newly accepted scholars under the partnership track. It comprises of intensive courses in (1) academic English; (2) mathematics for economics/introductory econometrics, (3) introductory economics, and (4) Japanese. The OP is conducted at the International University of Japan in Niigata prefecture, Japan, and held from mid-July to late-September (2.5 months) prior to commencing studies at the partnership universities.

Open Track

The open track of the JISPA provides support to scholars who wish to study graduate-level macroeconomics or a related field at either the master's or Ph.D. level at any leading university in Japan. However, priority is given to Ph.D. candidates.

Benefits

The JISPA covers all reasonable expenses for scholars' studies in Japan.

- Full university admission and tuition fees
- Annual book allowance and monthly living allowance
- · Computer/software allowance
- Medical insurance
- A round-trip airfare and travel allowance
- Orientation Program tuition fees (partnership track only)
- Annual field trip fees (partnership track only)
- · Research related fees, including field research fees (open-track

Ph.D. program only)

The scholarship covers expenses incurred by the scholar only.

Application Deadline: June 1, 2021 for admission in September/

October 2021 and April 202234

The application must be completed in English and include the following:

- Research proposal
- · Sponsor's nomination form
- Two reference letters
- University transcripts and diplomas
- Recognized English test reports (such as TOEFL or IELTS)
- Open-track only: A letter of acceptance from a university or a copy of one application to a university, and thesis/equivalent paper from master's degree

² The program will also consider officials working in other areas of government that have a significant impact on the formulation or implementation of macroeconomic policy.

³ Open-track applications will be accepted from April 15 until June 1, 2021.

⁴ If positions for the open-track scholarships are still available as a result of the above-mentioned selection, another application will open with the deadline of December 1, 2021 for admission in April 2022.

Activities for JISPA Scholars

In addition to the provision of scholarships, the IMF Regional Office for Asia and the Pacific (OAP) arranges various activities exclusively for JISPA scholars, including a series of occasional seminars, a summer workshop, welcome and farewell receptions, roundtable discussion sessions with the Bank of Japan and the Japanese Ministry of Finance, and a thesis presentation. JISPA scholars are also invited to seminars and high-level regional conferences organized by OAP. The partnership universities also arrange an annual field trip.

Follow-up Activities for JISPA Alumni

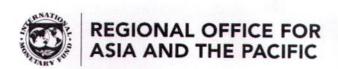

OAP arranges alumni gatherings in various countries for JISPA alumni and maintains the alumni networking site. The Continuing Education Program for the JISPA alumni (JISPA-CE) has been offered since 2018 to provide career-long support.

Japan-IMF Macroeconomic Seminar for Asia

Coping with the COVID-19 Recession; the Role of Macroeconomic Policies

10th JIMS March 1-5, 2021 at GRIPS

About JIMS

Yuqing Xing
JIMS Director
Professor, GRIPS
Former Director of Capacity
Building and Training, ADB
Institute

"Japan-IMF Macroeconomic Seminar" (JIMS) is an executive training program specifically designed for senior government officials from ministries of finance, central banks and other relevant agencies of emerging Asian countries. It is a collaborative project between the Asia Pacific Office of the IMF and the National Graduate Institute for Policy Studies (GRIPS), with the generous financial support of the Japanese government. It is a one-week training program and held once a year at GRIPS campus, which is located at Roppongi, a trendy business center of Tokyo.

The theme of 2021 JIMS is "Coping with the COVID-19 Recession; the Role of Macroeconomic Policies." To date, the global economy has fallen into the pandemic recession, which is different from any of the other economic recessions in the history of the world economy and has frozen economic activities around the world for a significant period. Macroeconomic policies cannot stop the spread of the virus and reduce the fear of the virus, but are the tools which could help the world economy navigate through the unprecedented challenge and eventually bring the world economy out of the pandemic shadow. We will invite distinguished academic scholars, senior economists of the IMF, Japanese government officials and practitioners of private sectors, to share their views on challenges of the global economy and the experiences of fighting the pandemic recession with well designed macroeconomic policies.

JIMS has functioned as a macroeconomic policy dialogues platform for policy makers of Asia-Pacific countries to share their country experiences for enhancing regional economic integration and growth. Every year, there are about 30 senior government officials from more than 20 countries to participate in JIMS. It is an excellent opportunity for developing networks among government officials of emerging Asia. Since its inception in 2011, there are more than 180 senior government officials from more than twenty countries of emerging Asia attended JIMS. For a healthy and prosperous Asia economy, we welcome all qualified senior government Officials to apply for JIMS 2021!
